

The Three Little Pigs

FS2-Class LK - Spring Term 1

Welcome Back!

Firstly we would like to wish you all a very Happy New Year and we hope you have enjoyed the Christmas break!

We would also like to take this opportunity to update you on the topics we will be covering this half term in class LK and other information that you may require.

Topics for this half term:

* All about me and where I live

We would like to remind all parents that our doors are open at 8.45am and your child must be in school before 8.55am as this is the end of registration.

You are welcome to stay and play with your child during this time.

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

We will continue to develop sharing skills and independence with dressing and hygiene. We will also be encouraging children to talk about their feelings and be sensitive to the needs and feelings of others.

Communication and Language/ Literacy

During this half term the children will talk and write about their Christmas holiday news. They will also talk about their homes and what they like about their homes. Then we will be using stories and non-fiction books to learn about different types of houses in our city and other places around the world.

Our phonics will also continue daily, as will our guided reading sessions. During phonics and guided writing we will also support children to develop the correct letter formations.

Mathematics

We will continue to work on counting in 1's, 2's and 10's. We will be learning to recognise and order numbers to 20. Children will also work on saying 1 more and 1 less than a given number up to 10 and then to 20.

We will also work on subtraction skills, practising taking away objects from a group and counting what is left.

In our shape, space and measures work the children will be comparing the height of each other (using vocabulary 'taller' and 'shorter') and the weight of objects (using vocabulary 'heavier' and 'lighter').

Understanding the World

During the term we will investigate water and ice by melting and freezing it. We will also explore different materials, feeling the texture of them and talking about their properties, e.g. strong, transparent. The children will continue to learn about their own and other cultures. We will be reading well known Bible stories as well as experiencing some of the culture and traditions associated with Chinese New Year.

Physical Development

The children will develop gymnastics skills in our P.E. lessons. They will also be encouraged to use large and small equipment in and outside of the classroom to develop their motor skills.

Homework

Please support your child with reading at least 3 times a week and practise words in tins. When your child is in phase 3 for phonics they will also have spellings to practise at home. We will change words and books on: Tuesdays and Fridays.

Thank you for your support with this.

Expressive Arts and Design

Children will develop imagination skills through role-play and building activities. They will also learn about different types of music and dance, including Chinese.

Questions

If you have any questions at all, please do not hesitate to speak to a member of staff at any time.

A big thank you to all parents/carers who have voluntarily contributed some money to help cover the costs of resources such as play dough, paint and baking products. If you wish to help please place contributions of no more than 50p per week in our money box. Thank you.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web.

You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you’re finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you’re trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes

Caption describing picture or graphic.

thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

St James' CE Primary School

Primary Business Address
Your Address Line 2
Your Address Line 3
Your Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555

E-mail: someone@example.com

Your business tag line here.

We're on the Web!
example.microsoft.com

Organization

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a bi-annual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

Caption describing picture or graphic.